THE BEGINNING'S END
CLASS OF 2006

JUN 2006

Four years ago, the members of the Class of 2006 entered Stoneham High School hoping to meet new people, create life long friendships, gain knowledge, and prepare for our individual futures. High school marks the start of adulthood for many. Stoneham High School has helped prepare us for the next step in our lives. Throughout the past four years, the class of 2006 has matured greatly because of the many different experiences that came with attending Stoneham High.

Many students in the Class of 2006 are music junkies, reality TV show addicts, and movie fanatics. From our younger years when we listened to I Want It That Way, watched Full House and went to the movies to see The Lion King, to our current interests of 50 Cent, The O.C., and Napoleon Dynamite, memorable songs, television shows, and movies have been part of our cultural identity. Since we are the generation surrounded by this pop culture on a daily basis, we have fittingly chosen to incorporate three parts of pop culture into our yearbook -- music, television, and movies.

Moving on is never an easy task, but letting go of the familiar opens a world of new and exciting possibilities. After four years as students at SHS, it is time for us to leave and start another beginning. Semisonic sings in their song, Closing Time, that "every new beginning comes from some other beginning's end". As the Class of 2006 ends one beginning and starts another, may we succeed wherever we go and achieve all of our dreams.

DEDICATION

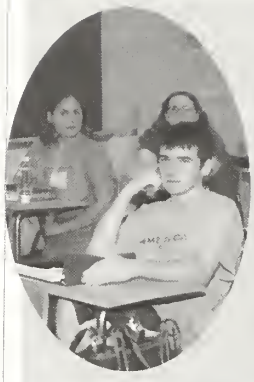
Mr. Stephen Burnham and Ms. Jennifer Farabaugh

The year was 2002. The Class of 2006 was beginning the last lap of its Stoneham Public School years. Mr. Stephen Burnham moved into the Social Studies department after two years in Special Education. And, Ms. Jennifer Farabaugh joined the SHS faculty in her first teaching position. As our freshman and sophomore history teachers, Mr. Burnham and Ms. Farabaugh influenced our lives; their lessons will endure for years to come. Because our beginnings intersected at the same time and lasted over two years in the classroom, we want to dedicate our yearbook to them.

Ms. Farabaugh was nervous starting her first year here, but her passion for her subject was soon obvious. She conducted mock trials of Marie Antoinette and Martin Luther, and let us not forget her drive to keep us motivated, even if she had to feed us cookies and pretzels!

Mr. Burnham, a Stoneham High alumnus, taught social studies with an immense amount of enthusiasm. Incorporating fun into learning was Mr. Burnham's specialty and his goal. He succeeded in making history come alive. His students played games that varied from "Burnham Ball" to "Slap It."

Both of these creative, fun, lively, and passionate teachers have participated in our coming of age with complete dedication. They never lectured us; maybe that's why we listened. For some of us, these were the first two adults to make us realize we aren't kids anymore. They illustrated to us that now is the time to shape ourselves into who we are going to be for the rest of our lives. They have helped us to become better people and to forge our beginning's end.



Betsy, Chris and Janelle listen intently on their first day of school.

FACULTY

Since the beginning of freshman year, the faculty has provided a solid foundation for our education at Stoneham High. Through our four years here, each teacher has molded our high school experience into something unique, because, like their students, they are all unique. With their different skills and contributions, they have challenged us, inspired us, and helped us blossom into the mature, prepared seniors we are today. Thanks to the entire faculty of Stoneham High, we are ready to pursue careers, college, or other dreams. Our teachers have provided guidance, instruction, and friendship which will help support us as we begin the next stage of our lives.

Q

Question to Faculty:

What is your fondest memory of your high school years?

A

Guess who?

"Well, this one time, it was really, really hot. It was a miserable day. I was in the hallway complaining to my wonderful boyfriend that I was TOO HOT. So, gallant gentleman that he was, he proceeded to pour his cold, refreshing ORANGE SODA down the front of my shirt. I was covered in sticky grossness for the rest of the day. Sigh! Those were the days. P.S. He was quickly replaced!"

"Our senior trip -- white water rafting. It began our senior week and really brought the class together before we all went our separate ways after graduation."

2.

"Wakefield 1967:

-- driving my '58 Chevy Impala to school and being cool.

-- football games, being "Mr. Football"

-- going to the senior prom with my present day wife & her being crowned "Queen of the Prom."

-- graduation and getting a '67 Camaro convertible from Mom & Dad. Spoiled brat!!"

3.

"Besides remembering a social studies teacher that encouraged us to use critical thinking skills, I remember our lunch periods where we had different high school rock bands periodically entertain us all."

4.

"Falling in love with the woman who would become my wife ... either that, or cross-country season!"

5.

"I was selected to perform in the Rhode Island All-State Music Festivals and a couple of New England Festivals. We got to spend a week at URI during the summer to prepare. Also went to a lot of proms!"

7.

"Hanging out with my friends at the local coffee shop before school, on weekends, etc."

6.

"Playing on the volleyball team, hanging out with my friends, and going to dances at the Naval Academy."

8.

"My senior year a group of us bought Christmas presents for some inner-city children. One day after school we had a small party at the community center and "Santa" delivered our gifts to the children. I happened to see a young girl open one of my gifts, a pink teddy bear. She hugged it for several minutes with tears in her eyes and said, "I didn't think Santa was coming this year." I think of her every December."

9.

"One of my fondest memories of high school was the day I finally passed my driving test. I passed with an 82% (80% was the passing grade) only because the examiner must have given me a break! Driving did not come easily to me so I was thrilled when I passed. I looked absolutely ecstatic in my first driver's license picture! I'll never forget that day -- and I still appreciate the freedom that comes from being able to drive myself anywhere in the country."

10.

"I remember the excitement each month when we published our school newspaper. I was an editor, wrote stories and a column and we were very proud of the newspaper."

11.

"There were so many wonderful HS memories ... but I think my most memorable was being a member of a sports team (swimming, basketball, track). The team concept, the friendships, the bus rides, the connections ..."

12.

"My high school had a "sit-in" in the front lobby to protest the school trying to make a "no PDA in the halls" rule. The protest started as a "sit in" but quickly moved to a march down Main Street where my mother saw me because she was a smoker then and was standing outside her building. I got into trouble with my mother and the school never passed the the rule. We continued to kiss our boyfriends and girlfriends."

13.

"Backing the "White Owl" -- my car -- into a cool spot at the Reading McDonald's, riding the hood and blasting out Arnie "Woo Woo" Ginsberg on the radio."

14.

"Saturday afternoon football games! After the game everybody walked downtown to the "post game" party/dance at the YMCA!
Also, our first PowderPuff football game. The girls played; the boys were cheerleaders and majorettes. They wore uniforms and performed with the marching band."

15.

"I remember coming out of the principal's office after he told me I was a National Merit Finalist! I had come to the public high school after 8 years in a parochial school. I felt I was academically underplaced because the advanced tracking had started in junior high. I was too young to worry about it much, but I remember the moment, feeling proud enough to burst and grateful to the universe."

16.

"Definitely one of my favorite memories is Mr. Gazzolla's freshman English class -- "Gazzollaland." When you walked in the door, the possibilities seemed endless."

17.

"Senior year, the whole yearbook staff was assigned to the same homeroom. We were assigned different staff duties, but worked together and had more fun. We had more freedom than other groups, because we could leave to solicit ads, do errands, etc."

18.

"We were in biology class getting ready to dissect the fetal pigs our teacher had just distributed. One girl made a comment about the "poor little pigs"; another wondered if the pigs had any brothers and sisters. Before we knew it we were all in tears. The teacher had to calm us all down and we didn't dissect that day."

Seussical

When the Stoneham High Drama Club was presented with the idea of Seussical the Musical, both cast and crew were enthusiastic to begin working on it. Seussical is a contemporary piece that successfully incorporates all of Dr. Seuss's most famous characters into one unforgettable story. The story takes place in the Jungle of Nool, as well as Whoville, and includes such 'amayzing' characters as Horton the Elephant (Bryan Miner), Gertrude McFuzz (Alycia Sacco), and Mayzie LaBird (Joelle Kross). In a world on top of a mere clover, the Cat in the Hat (Marc Picariello) attempts to show one little Who by the name of Jojo (Emily DiPietro) that "Anything's Possible."

The show revolved around dozens of memorable characters such as the diva, Sour Kangaroo, (Rocio Valles) the Mayor (Michael Testa) and his wife, (Amanda Buckley), the mischievous Wickersham Brothers (Rebecca Warren, Kim Warren, and Katia DeStefano), and the harmonious Bird Girls (Allie Landers, Kelly Landers, and Jenna Gondelman). The unlikely tale of an elephant and a bird who fall madly in love was only successful by the tremendous work of a talented director, Ms. Danielle Catalano. Technical Directors Jen Gay, Natalie Salerno, Sam Furrier, Lighting and Sound Crew Max Grover, Vicky Blyde and the Stage Manager Tina Blyde. Seniors who contributed to other aspects of the show include: Simon Jay, Sean Cunningham, Jonathan Maganzini, Amanda Kusnierz, Amanda Lumb, Betsy Higer, Amanda Bratt, Kelly Brown, Elise Brown, Roland Jackson, Eric McDowell, Nick Peters and Leigh-Anne Hurley. Of course, the show would never be possible without the amazing talents of the Music Director Robert Lague and senior instrumentalists Andrew Hume and Stephen Blaine.

Gertrude wishes that Horton would notice her.

"WHAT WAS YOUR FONDEST MEMORY OF SEUSSICAL?"

"Right before intermission when I had a solo and I improvised almost the entire song. Hardly anyone noticed! But I was still embarrassed."

Marc Picariello

"After the children's performance one little girl was asking to meet 'Gertrude McFuzz'."

Alycia Sacco

"Having an excuse to use a kangaroo puppet was pretty great."

Rocio Valles

"Having to practice the freezing as a Who. It was so difficult not to crack up at everyone's faces."

Amanda Bratt

"The wish circle. It was the saddest one I've been to."

Leigh-Anne Hurley

"Meeting new friends and at the same time keeping the old."

Brianna Foley

THE LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW

The Legend of Sleepy Hollow was truly a success in all areas of performance. The technical crew (Max Grover, Kevin Tse, Tina Blyde, Andrew Hume, Ashlyn Sacco), the running crew (Heads: Natalie Salerno, Sam Furrier, Megan Carleton) and every actor worked extremely hard to bring the famous story of Ichabod Crane to life. The tale of Sleepy Hollow revolves around the lanky, pompous, and slightly flamboyant character of Ichabod Crane (Marc Picariello), and his love interest Katrina Van Tassel (Caitlyn Conley). In a small village in the 1790's, everyone in town is interested in everyone else's business and they are all witness to Brom's (Simon Jay) pure jealousy when it comes to Katrina and Ichabod's courtship. Katrina's sisters, Margaret (Rocio Valles) and Gretchen (Alycia Sacco) provided for some comical scenes, and the parents (Bryan Miner, Sean Cunningham, Sarah Arrington, and Kelly Landers) gave the audience an idea of what Sleepy Hollow is all about. Everything seems to be going well until the new schoolmaster runs into some trouble on his walk home from the Van Tassel's party, after he is clearly instructed to "stay the path." The Headless Horseman (Roland Jackson, Matt Angelosanto) appears in the foggy red lights, and of course, we never see Ichabod again. The well-known story ends when Katrina and Brom are married, leaving the audience with an up-beat feeling.

The show would never have been possible without the fabulous direction of Mrs. Danielle Catalano and the assistant director Usama Sadaat. Seniors who also contributed to the Production Staff were: Leigh-Anne Hurley, Amanda Lumb, Kiley Malloch, Amanda Kusnierz, Jonathan Maganzini, Betsy Higer, Marcelline Previlon, and Eric McDowell.

"WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE MEMORY OF SLEEPY HOLLOW?"

Caitlyn Conley

"Starting the year off with a close-knit cast."

On Thursday, December 8, 2005, the Stoneham High School auditorium was filled with music of the Spartan Chorale, the Chamber Chorus, the Concert Band, and the Jazz Ensemble. The night began with the Intermediate Jazz Ensemble, directed by Mr. Edmund Grammer. They played Kansas City and Mercy, Mercy, Mercy with senior Jesse Dampolo on drums. Following that performance, the Chamber Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Robert Lague, beautifully sang Gloria, What Sweeter Music, and a special solo performance of I Dreamed a Dream from Les Mis, by Danielle Sanford. Next, the Advanced Jazz Ensemble performed Kenny Burrell's Latin beat, Chiltins Con Carne and their own rendition of Freddie Hubbard's Skydive, with excellent performances by seniors Steve Blaine on saxophone and Andy Hume on bass guitar. The Stoneham High Spartan Chorale took the stage next and performed April Is In My Mistress' Face, Zion's Walls, Bridge Over Troubled Water, and selected songs from the hit Broadway musical, Wicked. Chorale highlights included Rocio Valles singing Defying Gravity, the hit song from the aformentioned musical. Chorale senior members included Amanda Bratt, Kayla Catalano, Marcelline Previlon, Shannon Russell, Alycia Sacco, Rocio Valles, Jessica Morgan, Amber Wantman, Bryan Miner, Jesse Dampolo, Roger Manoel, and Michael Testa. The Spartan Concert Band followed, playing the pieces Phantom of the Opera medley, Swamp Dog, suite from The Magic Flute with Eric McDowell as the bell soloist for Christmas Bells. Fum, Fum, Fum, and select songs from The Incredibles a film highly noted for its thunderous music ended the set. Senior members of these outstanding performances consisted of Shelly Alminas, Megan Carleton, Jessica Morgan, Jessica Pham Ngo, Kimberly Raposo, Stella Barth, Michael Borchelt, Steven Blaine, Kelly McDermott, Matthew Warren, Jeff Murphy, Andrew Hume, Eric McDowell, and Simon Jay. As always the Winter Concert proved to be a highlight of the Fine Arts Department's year. No doubt the talent and promise of these senior musicans who plan to pursue their music will linger on in the air.

Mr. Grammer prepares to lead his band in a spectacular performance.

NHS Induction

On the night of Monday, February 6, 2006 the cafeteria was filled with students and family members attending the induction ceremony for the Stoneham chapter of the National Honor Society. After the officers and inductees filed in, the assembly began with a welcome address by Dr. Ryan. The four officers then delivered speeches on the four qualities honored and upheld by members of the society: Leadership (Amber Wantman, Secretary), Scholarship (Eric McDowell, Vice President), Character (Christopher Trakimas, President) and Service (Colin Sullivan, Treasurer). Mr. Schiazza was invited as the honorary speaker, and delivered his speech urging students to continue their hard work. The Spartan Chorale sang Star Spangled Banner and Bridge Over Troubled Water which carried us to the induction. Eric McDowell started by awarding the Honorary Membership to our much admired hall monitor, Mr. Urquhart. Once his applause died down, six seniors and thirty-nine juniors were pinned and flamed. Candles burning, the dark cafeteria was brightened as we reached the last few inductees. By the end of the night, Stoneham High School was able to claim sixty-six of its students members of the National Honor Society.

The candidates for the society were selected initially for achieving a GPA of 4.0 or higher. They were then each asked to write an essay about their own service, character, or leadership. A council of faculty members voted on the candidates. Once inducted, Mrs. Sherwood and Mrs. Cargill lead the students as the advisors.

Drama Fest

The Drama Club had another fantastic year at the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival competition, moving on to the final round. Only 15 schools were selected out of the 105 that entered. This year the club took on the challenge of producing Moliere's comedy, The Physician In Spite of Himself. After a few bumps in the road, the club exceeded expectations once again producing a truly stunning and hilarious show. The show could not have been done so flawlessly without the brilliant production staff of director Ms. Catalano, assistant director Usama Saadat, and senior stage manager Tina Blyde. Along with the amazing set design, done by Marc Picariello, and such a hardworking crew, this year's show consisted of ten talented cast members. Portraying the physician, Sganarelle, was none other than the fabulous Marc Picariello, followed by the beautifully talented Rocio Valles, who portrayed Sganarelle's wife Martine. Bryan Miner took on the challenge of not only portraying the nosy neighbor, Robert, but also the wealthy and crotchety father, Geronte, whom Sganarelle goes to visit. Kris Ingersoll and rookie Matt Angelosanto played the comedic duo, Valere and Lucas, who convince Sganarelle that he is indeed a doctor by beating him with sticks. The wonderful Katia DeStefano as Geronte's nurse, Jacqueline, was one of the few down to earth characters Moliere has in the show. Emily DiPietro and Danny Marchant did not fail to impress by portraying Perrin and Thibalt, the hillbilly pair that believe a sliver of cheese can save their dying mother/wife. The elegant Alycia Sacco who played the role of Lucinde, and Simon Jay, her secret lover Leandre, proved to be truly marvelous as always. Special mention shall be given to prop heads Jonathan Maganzini and Amanda Kusinerz, without whom this club and this show could not have been so great. Their hard work and dedication will forever be remembered. Led by tech directors Natalie Salerno, Sam Furrier and senior tech director Megan Carleton, senior crew members who amplified this great cast into one great show were Sean Cunningham, Roland Jackson, Eric McDowell, Betsy Higer, Marcelline Previlon, and Mike Testa. Costumes was a huge success and was led by senior Leigh-Anne Hurley, along with her crew of Kiley Malloch, Amanda Lumb, Kelly Brown and Billy Moriarty. Throughout the rounds many members were recognized with awards. Matt Angelosanto, Rocio Valles, Marc Picariello, and Alycia Sacco were each given All-Star acting awards. The aforementioned costume heads along with their crew were all recognized for excellence in costumes. Tech directors Megan, Natalie, and Sam also received awards for set execution. And for the second year in a row, light designer Max Grover received an award. Congratulations to both cast and crew.

Martine is fed up with all of her husband's antics.

"WHAT WAS YOUR FAVORITE DRAMA FEST EXPERIENCE?

"The tension as we waited to hear our names called, and the realization that all the hard work everyone put into the show resulted into our going to Finals!"

Marc Picariello

"Receiving an all-star acting award at Fest, and hearing our school's name when we were told we were moving on to semi-finals."

Alycia Sacco

"Seeing Testa do his interpretive dance to Sandstorm the night before prelims."

Sean Cunningham

"Me, Natalie, and Sam getting awards for set execution."

Megan Carleton

"Having the entire costumes crew be recognized with an award. We worked hard and it really paid off."

Leigh-Anne Hurley

"Watching my fellow cast members join together for a common goal despite seemingly insurmountable adversity."

Kris Ingersoll

"When I staged a humorous interpretative dance to pump everyone for the last run before Fest."

Mike Testa

These three have no idea what kind of doctor they're about to meet.

Only Leandre is able to cure Lucinde's ailment.

The Seniors!

Carnival Ball

This year's Carnival Ball consisted of a medley of Broadway musicals as parodied by the class acts and sung by various talents of Stoneham High.

Mrs. Hogan's voice was heard loud and clear among the Broadway lights as she announced the Carnival Ball King Billy Flynn, Queen Marceline Previlon and their Royal Court: Attendents Jamie Alden, Heather Alie, Kirby Carpenito, Leah Cataldo, Amanda Chauncy, Jessica Newton, Shannon Russell, Alycia Sacco, Kelly Sargent, Stella Vigorito and their Ushers Lewis Corapi, Stephen Cotter, Daniel Dawson, Mark DeSantis, Brian Kirkland, William Leavitt, Jeffrey Newton, Marc Picariello, Christopher Trakimas and John Yerxa.

The audience was dazzled by senior musical acts such as Rosie Valles singing Climbing Uphill from The Last Five Years; Alycia Sacco, Bryan Miner and their duet As Long As You're Mine from Wicked; along with singing talents Kelly Landers, Erica Gould, Deirdre Burke, and Emily DiPietro.

The class acts had a very important job as well. They were designed to weave together the love story of the Masters of Ceremonies Kelly Brown and Phil Symons. The problem for Phil was he loved Kelly, but Kelly loved musicals. It was his goal to figure out how he could take a place in Kelly's heart alongside all the musicals. With the help from the sophomore act Fame, the junior act West Side Story and the seniors big bang performance of The Hand Jive from Grease, among many other Broadway parodies through out the senior act, Kelly finally noticed Phil and they lived happily ever after.

CAPTAINS WORDS

A record that lacks any trace of victory does no justice to what we accomplished this season. As a small team mainly made up of sophomores and juniors, we stayed together on and off the field. The friends we made and the laughs we had will be remembered just as much as the many, many "so close" games.

Who could forget Canadian River Dance, Mac's snacks, Palladines the informer, water fights at the car wash, balls on the train tracks, pasta parties, and all of those cups? Did the referees make us cry? Siii, but overall the good outweighed the bad. We had a memorable few months with two amazing coaches and lots of new friends. Two goals and two cards later, it was all over.

Best of luck with next season; get the W you deserve.

CAPTAIN'S WORDS

The SHS golf team struggled through a 3-9 season this year. However, what our record doesn't show was our determination, dedication, and heart. Losing seven seniors left us with a young, inexperienced team. With everyone returning next year, the roster looks promising. Stepping in for his father, Brian Seabury coached the team this year and we all enjoyed the season with him. He was a fun coach, always smiling and laughing. I am looking forward to next season and hope to see everyone back for the 2006-07 season.

The season started as it usually does, with outrageous captains' practices, fun team outings and high hopes for a good season. Things played out in a way that no one could have planned. Co-Captain Ashley Corbett rode the bench for the first half of the season, recovering from shoulder surgery. Co-Captain Sarah Grossheim was injured in our fourth match, dislocating her shoulder at North Andover, and was unable to return to the court. Primary setter, Lindsay Dalbeck, also suffered from a shoulder injury, preventing her from playing the last half of the season. Despite these losses, the team played aggressively and up to the competition. Our record was much more impressive than last year's. However, it did not reflect all the hard work we put into this season. We as captains were very proud to lead a team of such talented girls, and as teammates, we were grateful for the opportunity to share the court with such outstanding players. Thank you to Stella, Conary, Lea-Catal and Lindsay for a memorable four years. We hope next year's team is successful and good luck with the Red Head!

Although we had a tough season, we were all really close to each other. Our 2005 Cross-Country team consisted of eleven girls. Most of our team was new to the sport. We trained hard with the help of our amazing coach and achieved as much as we could. Cross-Country is like no other sport, there are no time outs, no turning back. It's all about that one race, and who has more endurance. We have been training with Coach Norton for four years. He is constantly trying to help us improve with his past experiences and words of wisdom. We are going to miss Cross-Country. It is a big part of our lives. We wish you all luck next year.

The 2005 season was one of great improvement for the Boys' Cross Country team. Coming off of a disappointing previous season of 5-4, the team worked through the summer with their eyes set upon a league title. The first meet against perennial power Lexington would prove to be a decisive one. Despite a valiant effort, the Spartans lost 31-26, nearly pulling off the upset. But the team was not disheartened, and picked up momentum to win the next six meets, including a dominating performance against powerful Burlington. Eventually the streak was halted by a strong Winchester team, for the second and final loss of the season. Closing out the season with a win over Reading, the team concluded with a record of 7-2. Captain Matt Wantman, Captain Colin Sullivan, and senior Ross Pustell provided leadership. The juniors, led by James Morgan and Rob Stockbridge, provided depth. Meanwhile, the underclassmen learned and improved, turning in their best races at the end of the season. From the summer workouts to the late-season state meets, this season was certainly one to remember.

The 2005 Fall Cheering team had a very successful season. Every girl improved on something; whether it was jumps, motions, or attitudes. The hard work our team put into all the practices really paid off at competition. Although we placed 7th, our score improved 15 points from last year's. This was a great accomplishment because it was the highest overall score of the past four years.

This year's cheering team proved that we are capable of being not only a strong competitive squad, but also a great group of girls. We left all of our hard work on the mat (and for some of us, in the gutter) at competition. We wish you girls even greater success next year. Thank you for such a memorable season!

Business as usual! Another year and another championship for SFC. There were a lot of skeptics this year as we lost 8 starters from last year's record setting team, and moved up to Division 2. But we proved them wrong finishing 20-3-1 with another state championship. This retooled team won Stoneham's fourth straight Northern Massachusetts and Eastern Massachusetts titles and the school's third state title in the past four years. From our 2-0 first round battle with league rival Winchester, to our historic 3-2 come from behind overtime victory over top seeded Hingham, to the sudden death penalty kicks in the state championship game against Belchertown, the tournament was something that anyone involved with SFC will never forget. Our accomplishments would not have been possible without the incredible support of family, friends, faculty, and trainers. We were fortunate to have the greatest coaching staff in the world, Coach Z, Critty, and of course the big man, Sir James Carino. We will never forget the friendships and memories from the first day of training all the way to the final shootout. And boys, remember the rules of the weekend.

The 2005 season has certainly been an unforgettable one. From the long list of injuries and sickness, to the car accidents and emotional drama, the team has been through a lot together. Missing the tournament by three points was heart-breaking, especially for the nine seniors on the team. Our record of 5-8-5 does not show how hard we worked, or how well we played this season. The offense fought for every goal and deserves credit for all the effort they exerted. Our defense consistently kept us in every game, never allowing our opponents to score more than two goals. Even though we were forced to play under harsh weather conditions, we still gave it our all and ended up playing our best games.

Knowing we were out of the tournament early gave us a chance to really understand why we played... for each other. The last few weeks of the season allowed us to have fun and make amazing memories. Our deadly World Cup matches, pasta parties, and baby #1 rapping in the back of the bus (diamonds are forever), are times that we as seniors will always remember. We wish you girls all the best next year and we thank you for giving us the best season we could ever have asked for. And one last time... "My Humps!"

The Football team had high hopes going into the 2005 season training hard at summer workouts. Sunday practices and summer camps throughout the off season. With devastating injuries and several heart breaking, close games our record wasn't where we would have hoped. The gridiron boys finished with a 3-8 record, with exciting victories over Lexington, Watertown, and a BIG WIN on Thanksgiving Day against Reading, breaking an eleven year losing streak. Our season was one that will bring us unforgettable memories and lifelong friendships. However, after 11 years Stoneham finally took home the Turkey Bowl Trophy from Reading, beating them in a game to remember 21-7. It was an exciting game with two competitive and aggressive teams. As a team we were confident and determined to win and by no means wanted our last game to be remembered as a loss. Playing a mistake free game and executing a flawless game plan, made the victory a great team win. As the seniors move on we can only hope that this win will be one to build off of for future teams. The team was one to remember. No one will forget how Danny would "light up" our opponents with huge hits or how T-Tay was always there to crack a joke. Angelo will never let anyone forget about Watertown and his infamous touchdown, and we won't forget the kick off return when J.O. danced into the end zone to beat Lexington. Bain hopes people will forget his celebration in Lexington. Maurice, Billy, and Rob's argument in the locker room are ones to be remembered, as will Kirkland walking around the locker room in his boxers. Langille was there to get those interceptions when we needed them the most and Sacco was always there to make that crushing hit. Ingersoll who untortuantely was unable to step foot on the field this year due to injury showed up everyday and helped in anyway possible. Vern was always there being "Vern", and "Crazy" Kyle Callahan will be instilled in our minds as the man who turned the Turkey Bowl around for us to beat Reading with his towering punt. Most of all we loved being a part of the TEAM. A football team is different from other teams. You needed to work with 40 to 50 other people YOUR TEAMMATES, to get the job done. The team belonged to the team, not the coaches, not the quarterback, not anyone. The team belonged to everyone who paid the price to be on it. Whether it were the seniors or the underclassmen we all stepped on the field as a team and played for one another. Football gave us a chance to be a part of something very special and we are all thankful for that and all who helped along the way.

The Spartans tacked on yet another winning season to their streak of twenty-some-odd years, finishing with a record of 5 and 4. Matching last season's record was an impressive feat this time around, as 2005 saw the graduation of many league all stars. This was the season for young runners to establish themselves as solid competitors for years to come.

With a tough season opener against soon to be league champion Lexington, the boys started on shaky ground. In a series of close meets, however, the Spartans began to gain confidence. Young guys who had only ever run junior varsity became staples in the varsity lineup, and became key factors in tight meets. This developing team dropped only 2 of the middle 7 meets, establishing Stoneham as not just any other team.

Along with much young talent, the seniors of '06 lead the way. Anthony Sacco led the league i shotput from the season opener through closing breaking the 50 foot mark late in the year. Bill Flynn recovered from a blown out knee in footba to take key places in the dash and compete in per tathalon. Ross Pustell competed in various state of recovery from a partially torn hamstring, leadin the SHS hurdle crew. Colin Sullivan added dept to the formidable and maturing distance crew. Ma Warren and Chris Maloney were eager and willing t slide between the 300m and dash from meet to mee Austin Kennedy got key third places in the 600 run throughout the season. Chris Bain, recoverin from a nasty head injury, returned to hurdles midwa though the season. Senior Tom Bourgeois helpe provide an example for the younger throwers in th practice ring. The '05-'06 season for the SHS Boy Track was productive and filled with goals.

In the past years, our winter track team hadn't had a record that reflected the potential of the girls. This year, however, entered the season with an optimistic attitude and our goals for the season were set very high. Our team remained small the previous years, but every girl contributed either points or encouragement to the meets. This year, Stoneham girls ended season with a winning record of 5-4 against a very competitive league. Out of the three of four meets we lost, the score ca down to a close ten points or less. Some of the highlights of the season include: a big win against rival Winchester which ca down to the relay; the relay team breaking the league record against Burlington; Chelsea Canavan breaking the school rec in the 300m more than once; freshman Ali Simeone running a personal best and awesome time in both the mile against Re ing, and the two-mile at states; Christina Izzicupo receiving the most outstanding performer in the Middlesex League, ty the Middlesex League record in high jump and breaking the league record in long jump. A big congratulations goes to our g 4x400 team consisting of Lindsey Kennedy, Emily Nardone, Chelsea Canavan, Christina Izzicupo and Linsday Manfra. T won the relay in both states and all-states and broke the school record.

We had many coaches this year including Ms. D, Mike DiLisio, Mike Jeffrey, Maura McCusker, and Laura LaFrance They were a great help to our succesful season, and we made memories that will last a lifetime. Our biggest thanks, however, g to head coach Mr. Norton. With all of his inspirational stories and intellectual jokes he made here and there, it was impossi to not be thankful for having such a great coach. We will never forget "story time" on the bus when we forced Mr. Norto tell us some embarassing stories of his younger years, and his famous saying before meets "When we go, we go hard." With Mr. Norton's positive reinforcement, the team would not have experienced the success we achieved this season. We wish r year's team the best of luck. The Stoneham High School Gymnastics Team had yet another great season. We started off our season with a tri-meet against Medford and Pope John, beating both teams. Our first inner-league meet was an unfortunate loss to Woburn, but after that, our winning streak began. Throughout the season we won four out of seven inner-league meets, with only two losses to rivals Reading and Woburn. Although our last meet was an unfortunate loss to long time rivals, the Reading Rockets, we still managed to be on top, replacing the school record of 136.3 with a 137.8. Leagues was another success, placing third behind Reading and Woburn, only missing second by .4.

Many people improved and achieved their personal bests this year. Senior Stella Barth has shown an enormous amount of improvement on bars raising her score almost four points from her freshman year. The See sisters continue to amaze everyone, going on to state individuals and scoring at the top in the league for all-around scores. We have no doubt that juniors Rachel, Alyssa and Reanna will do an awesome job carrying the team next year with their talent and leadership skills. We had so much fun this year as captains, and we will miss the team very much. Thank you everyone for a great season filled with wonderful memories. Love you girls!

In another key win over Melrose, senior Kyle Callahan, a h den jewel, dropped a career-high 17 points and 11 rebounds. Senior Captain Mark DeSantis proved why he i two-sport all-star this season. He scored 20 plus in two pivotal games against Georgetown, allowing the Sparta a tournament birth. Senior Brian "The Bulldog" Kirkland was the muscle for the Spartans this season. Playi through a broken nose he suffered against Reading, Kirkland was a spark off the bench and contributed grea this season with his aggressive style of play. We could rave about reaching our goal of a five hundred record, or legitimately making the tournament for the first time since 1992, but that would not do the girls' basketball team justice. What is most important to us as captains is the dedication, intensity, and passion that our team poured into the season. Coming into this season as seniors, we felt as though we had experienced every aspect of cheerleading contrary to our expectations. Our squad made up of mostly freshmen turned out to be more successful than we had expected. Everything about this team was different including our choreographer. The transition was difficult at first, but that gave us the determination to work twice as hard. From attending stunting clinics to pulling all-nighters, this team dedicated countless hours in order to achieve success .

Sticking our stunts and hitting sharp motions led us to earn enough points to get second place which qualified us for the regional competition. Hopefully we will reach our potential at regionals and proceed to states for the first time in our high school careers. With the support of family, friends, and the athletes we cheer for, we felt like winners before stepping onto the floor. The Seniors appreciate all of the underclassmen, our choreographer, and especially our coach for the past four seasons, Lisa Walsh. Good luck in the years ahead!

The 2005-2006 Boy's Ice Hockey season was not as productive as we thought it would have been, but from the first day of tryouts to our last home game against Reading, the season was full of memories and laughs. We had seven graduating seniors leading the team throughout the season: Kevin Bowdidge, Ryan McGrath, Brian Agahigian, Rob Furrier, Billy Leavitt, Alex Cimini and Greg O'Quinn. These seven seniors share something special among themselves. All seven have played hockey together years before high school started. We have been playing on the same teams beginning with in-house mites to ending our careers playing against Reading.

From day one of tryouts to the last game of the season, we were all making memories we will never forget. On the first night of tryouts Billy put on a show with a hit on Chiaradonna that knocked him over the boards. In the game against Reading, Kevin showed that you could make a save no matter what position you are in. Also memorable was Brian scoring a goal out of mid-air. Roh had a career topping practice when he snipped the inside of the post on every shot he took. It was truly jaw dropping. With ten seconds left in the season, Greg amazed the team with a two-man dangle. We will all remember Ryan's goal against Reading on a penalty shot-like breakaway when he just casually guided the puck through the goalie's legs and into the back of the net. Off the ice, the hockey team was given the most delicious pasta parties thanks to Alex Cimini who fed the team with the most delectable bread and breakfasts we have ever had.

It was a hard season to get through for all of us, and although our record was not the best, we never stopped playing the game we loved. Senior year brought us plenty of memories that we will never forget.

This season has been the most successful in Girls' Hockey history. We have 7 wins as opposed to none last year. We played well against some tough teams including Wakefield and Belmont. We've come a long way not only in skills, but in team chemistry. We're going to miss everyone so much next year, and we want to wish next year's team the best of luck!

MEMORIES

"Though it seems like it was decades ago, I can never forget my first day of high school. It was my first day taking the bus to school, and besides being on the wrong street to get on, I would say my first day on public transportation went well. I stepped off the bus and walked into the school alone. I had picked out the perfect outfit for the day: a purple plaid skirt and a purple shirt. The minute I stepped inside, I was blinded by a flash of light from the yearbook photographer, Terry, who clearly wanted to capture the memory of a terrified freshman. Once I successfully opened my locker and organized my new school supplies, I was saved from loneliness! My friends! I was so happy to see them, instead of the seniors walking past, who must have been at least twenty feet taller than me. The rest of my day was a blur, as are a majority of my days at SHS, but my friends' faces have always stood clear to me. Of the many memories made here, both good and bad, I can always remember the few people that mean so much, who were always by my side."

- Carolyn Leahy

"I remember during freshman year, we had to come to school to watch the meteor shower around 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. I really didn't want to go but I needed the extra credit, so I went. I'm glad I decided to go because it was so much fun. I remember after the shower was over, we came inside and some of us snuck upstairs. It was pitch black and we ran around scaring each other. It was so fun! During the rest of the day, everyone was so tired. The day was very long, but it was worth it. I never thought I would have so much fun in school."

- Kimberly Raposo

"The most memorable moment for me was a more recent event. I will always remember the chilly Saturday afternoon at Westboro High School, where I netted the game winning penalty kick. Out of all the memories I have with championships in soccer, this one sticks out the most. This amazing time will sit in my mind forever. The feeling of scoring the winning goal is very overwhelming, but I was glad I got the chance to try and win for the team. Boys Soccer, State Champs '06!"

- Phil Symons

"Halloween at SHS may not seem like a big deal. I remember freshmen year I had to be a medieval nun! Senior year everyone had voted for T.V. shows even though we had done that sophomore year. Instead of being boring seniors and wasting our last Halloween at SHS, some friends and I had a great idea: The Golden Girls! No one believed that we would pull it off. On Halloween Jess Newton (Dorothy), Sarah Grossheim (Rose), and I (Sophia) came in looking just like The Golden Girls. Actually when first walking in we were asked who we were subbing for! As for the teachers, they knew exactly who we were. In my Nana's wigs and dresses we hopped into Sarah's '86 Buick and rolled on out of SHS blasting Thank You for Being a Friend. Now don't you wish you were our missing Blanche? Love you guys!"

- Jessica O'Meara

"My memory from senior year would be the morning I forgot to pick up Heather. I was with Jess on our way to Physics at 7:45 when my phone rang. It was Heather wondering when I was coming to get her. I looked at Jess, laughed, and then said "We're going to be late." Jess and I went to get her and were back by 8:00. We went to Mr. Russo to get a pass and I had to explain to him that I had forgotten to pick up Heather and had to drive all the way across town and back."

- Colleen Coriudia

"Throughout my four-year high school career, one memory stands out more than all others. My freshman year, winter season, I participated in Winter Cheerleading. It was unpleasant and boring for the first few weeks, but with a little work, team unity, and dedication, we united into a team.

My first high school competition ended with a third place medal for Stoneham. That was the team's first placement in fifteen years! What a memorable night! All I can remember after walking off the floor was hysterically crying out of uncontrollable excitement. Nothing stays with you quite like an unexpected victory."

- Stella Vigorito

"During the Drama Club's production of Annie, one of the scariest, yet funniest things happened to me. It was time for my big scene as Bert Healy. I was excited and ready to sing. As the scene started, things were going pretty smoothly, but all of a sudden... my mind went completely blank. It was my line, but I couldn't remember what I was supposed to say. My heart raced as I frantically tried to come up with something. It was right before I was supposed to sing, so I turned to my backup Boylen Sisters, and said, "Come on! Hop on down and join the club." What? Where did that come from? Well, strangely enough, that line, after many looks of puzzlement from the cast, seemed to fit. After that incident, the rest of the scene flowed pretty well. Mrs. Catalano told me later that that mistake was one of the funniest things that has ever happened in a Drama Club production. It was absolutely terrifying, but definitely one of the funniest things that has ever happened to me at SHS."

- Bryan Miner

"Eating in Mexico, Germany, and France all in the same day. Watching fireworks every night with some of your best friends. Swimming in a pool on a warm night while it's snowing in Boston...

These are just a few aspects of my most memorable vacation during my four years at Stoneham High: the Band & Chorus field trip to perform in Disney World, Florida in April, 2005. We visited MGM Studios, Magic Kingdom, Animal Kingdom, and Epcot (where we performed at the Future World West stage). Though I'm not a huge fan of plane rides, I have to say that it was definitely worth the trip. We bonded for five days straight and made some unforgettable memories while waiting in line for rides such as Space Mountain. We even made memories while just hanging out in our hotel room and chatting about everything we did that day before heading out to the pool or grabbing some late night snacks. I know that these are five days of my life that I will never forget."

A dream is a seed
The seed of a tree
A tree full of life
And the things you can be
Your dreams are the windows
Through which you can see
A hint of your future
And the things you will be
Each night when you sleep
You're feeding the seed
The seed of the tree
Of who you will be.

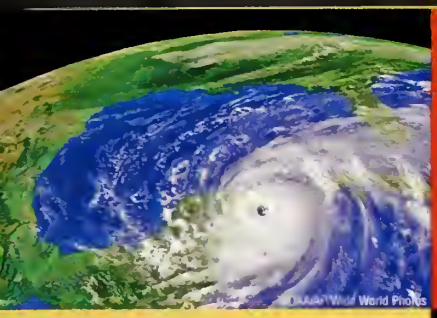
WILMA
October 24, 2005



Hurricanes ravage the Gulf Coast region in the fall of 2005, posing an unprecedented test of the United States federal emergency response efforts. Hundreds of lives are lost and thousands are left homeless in the wake of Category 4 Hurricane Katrina, followed by Rita and Wilma. The tragedy spurs contributions of money, talents, homes, food and more in an attempt to raise spirits and rebuild the area.

RISING FROM THE STORMS

August

25 Hurricane Katrina strikes Florida.

28 Mandatory evacuation of both New Orleans and Mississippi is ordered as Katrina becomes a Category 5 storm in the Gulf of Mexico.

29 Downgraded to a Category 4 storm, Katrina hits land. 1.3 million homes and businesses lose electricity in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. 30 levees are breeched, flooding New Orleans and leaving 100,000 people stranded. After slow government response, civil unrest and looting begins.

31 President Bush surveys the damage.

September

1 30,000 National Guard troops are deployed. Gas prices spike to as high as $5 per gallon.

2 President Bush visits Louisiana and signs a $10.5 billion relief bill. Nearly 154,000 evacuees arrive in Texas.

4 The New Orleans Superdome is evacuated.

6 President Bush and Congress pledge to investigate the flawed disaster response.

9 Government-issued debit cards are distributed to evacuees. The program fails and is ended days later.

12 Michael Brown, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, resigns. Flooding is down to 50 percent in New Orleans.

14 New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin announces a phased repopulation plan.

15 New Orleans begins to reopen. Katrina is named the most destructive hurricane in U.S. history.

20 Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco declares a state of emergency as Hurricane Rita strengthens off the coast.

22 Rita hits the Louisiana coast and heads for Texas.

23 Thousands evacuate eastern Texas and the 9th Ward of New Orleans floods once again after levees are overrun.

October

24 Hurricane Wilma hits southwest Florida.

Thousands of Louisiana evacuees receive shelter and medical care in the Astrodome in Houston, Texas.

Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco, President Bush and New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin survey the damage in New Orleans.

Many animals left behind during evacuation are rescued and given shelter or reunited with their owners.

Homes across the country are opened to families left homeless in the wake of Hurricane Katrina.

Thousands of volunteers help Habitat for Humanity rebuild homes in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Three months after Katrina strikes, the first New Orleans public school reopens on November 28.
